24 - 26 June 2020, Instituto Superior Técnico, Lisbon, Portugal

Dear colleague,

The call for abstracts for E-UNSAT 2020, the 4th European Conference on Unsaturated Soil is open. E-UNSAT 2020 is organized by Instituto Superior Técnico (IST), Lisbon, in collaboration with Delft University of Technology (TUDelft), Delft, and Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya (UPC), Barcelona. The conference is supported by the Technical Committee 106 of the International Society of Soil Mechanics and Geotechnical Engineering on Unsaturated Soils, and will be hosted at IST in Lisbon, Portugal, from 24 to 26 June 2020.

Contributions on challenging perspectives related to unsaturated soils and rocks are mostly welcome, including Environmental Geotechnics, Energy Geotechnics, Multiscale modelling, Linear infrastructures, Landslides, Climate stresses. New topics will be addressed, such as Nano-Micro Technology, Bio-Inspired Technology, Powder-Grain Technology.

Abstracts on any topic related to unsaturated soils and rock mechanics and geotechnical and geo-environmental engineering are invited not later than May 19, 2019. The abstract can be uploaded online at <https://easychair.org/my/conference?conf=eunsat2020> . The conference proceedings will be submitted for Scopus indexation.
